LAND VALUE READJUSTMENT

The business world today is in a topay-turry condition. Nations are readjusting their war debts, interest rates, are being sisshed, old debts are being silced in half. Business re being sliced in half. Husiness verywhere is undergoing a thor-ugh house cleaning and a re-ar-angement of loans, principal and nterest charges to meet the condiinterest charges to meet the condi-tions of the times.

This policy of revaluation and-readjustment should, we believe, be applied to the farmer. Consider the position of the farmer on the Eastern Irrigation Project. He owes from $5,000 to $7,000 on his ower from $5,000 to $7,000 on his 100 area farm; interest on this sum at 5 per cent amounts to from $300 s $425 a year; water renial is $200 a year; taxes are $50 a year, making a total of $550 to $875 a year he has to pay after meeting all living ex-penses and operating expenses in connection with the growing of

Can be do it? The answer is no. The value of farm produce is low, and has been low for the past two crop years, and as a consequence the farmer's earning power is reduced to a point below his annual expenses, based on the terms of the land contract he signed years ago. Payments on principal have to be entirely disregarded, for he cannutrely disregarded, for he can-not even pay interest charges and vater rental.
